Lab Assignment 9

Objective:
The objective of this Ionic application is to build a hybrid application which has to login with correct credentials and after login to get current stocks of top social networks with image picker option.

Screenshot1: launching of application

Screenshot2: After successful login, home page with current stocks of google and twitter

Here we can see image picker button which will be used to pick and select the images from the phone storage

Screenshot3: After clicking on the image picker button, we will get the page to select the images

Screenshot4: After selecting images and clicking on the ok button